INTEREST OF THE AMICUS CURIAE

Amicus curiae Everytown for Gun Safety (formally known as Everytown for Gun Safety Action Fund) (“Everytown”) is the nation’s largest gun-violence-prevention organization, with nearly six million supporters across the country, including over 300,000 in Illinois. Everytown was founded in 2014 as the combined effort of Mayors Against Illegal Guns, a national, bipartisan coalition of mayors combating illegal guns and gun trafficking, and Moms Demand Action for Gun Sense in America, an organization formed after a 20-year-old gunman murdered twenty children and six adults at an elementary school in Newtown, Connecticut. The mayors of 28 Illinois cities are members of Mayors Against Illegal Guns. Everytown also includes a large network of gun-violence survivors who are empowered to share their stories and advocate for responsible gun laws, as well as a national movement of high-school and college students working to end gun violence.

Everytown’s mission includes defending common-sense gun safety laws through filing amicus briefs that provide historical context and doctrinal analysis that might otherwise be overlooked. Everytown has filed such briefs in numerous Second Amendment cases. See, e.g., White v. Illinois State Police, No. 19-2797 (7th Cir.); Culp v. Madigan, No. 15-2728 (7th Cir.); Young v. Hawaii, No. 12-17808 (9th Cir.) (en banc); Hirschfeld v. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms & Explosives, No. 19-2250 (4th Cir.). Several courts have also cited and expressly relied on Everytown’s amicus briefs in deciding Second Amendment and other gun cases. See, e.g., Ass’n of N.J. Rifle & Pistol Clubs, Inc. v. Att’y Gen. N.J., 910 F.3d 106, 112 n.8 (3d Cir. 2018); Rupp v. Becerra, 401 F. Supp. 3d 978, 991-92 & n.11 (C.D. Cal. 2019), appeal docketed, No. 19-56004 (9th Cir. Aug. 28, 2019); see also Rehaif v. United States, 139 S. Ct. 2191, 2210-11, nn.4 & 7 (2019) (Alito, J., dissenting).¹

INTRODUCTION

Defendant-Appellee Vivian Brown (“Defendant”) challenges under the Second Amendment the licensing and fee requirements laid out in the Illinois Firearm Owner’s Identification Card Act (“FOID Card Act”), specifically as applied to individuals without prior criminal convictions or other disqualifiers who possess firearms within their own homes for self-defense. The circuit court erroneously held that these requirements are unconstitutional, asserting first that there is no historical basis for imposing any licensing requirements on law-abiding citizens, and second that the law does not further the State’s interest in public safety. See Order on Defendant’s Motion to Find Statute Unconstitutional (“Order”) 7-9, 13-16 (Apr. 26, 2021).

In District of Columbia v. Heller, 554 U.S. 580 (2008), the Supreme Court announced that the Second Amendment protects an individual right, rather than a militia-based right, and struck down a D.C. law that prohibited keeping an operable handgun in the home for self-defense. See id. at 636. The Court stressed, however, that “the right secured by the Second Amendment is not unlimited,” and identified examples of “presumptively lawful regulatory measures” that do not impinge on that right. Id. at 626-27, 627 n.26. These include “longstanding prohibitions on the possession of firearms by felons and the mentally ill” and “laws imposing conditions and qualifications on the commercial sale of arms.” Id. at 626-27.²

To implement Heller, the Illinois Supreme Court, like the Seventh Circuit and every other federal circuit court to have considered the issue,³ applies a two-step approach in Second Amendment cases. First, courts conduct a “textual and historical inquiry to determine whether the challenged law imposes a burden on conduct that was understood to be within the scope of the Second Amendment’s protection.” People v. Mosley, 2015 IL 115872, ¶ 34; see also Horsley v. Trame, 808 F.3d 1126, 1130 (7th Cir. 2015). If a court finds that a law regulates conduct falling outside the Second Amendment’s scope at the first step, then the inquiry ends—the regulated activity “is categorically unprotected.” Mosley, 2015 IL 115872, ¶ 34. If, however, the law does fall within the Second Amendment’s scope, then the court proceeds to step two and applies “the appropriate level of heightened means-end scrutiny.” Id.; see also Horsley, 808 F.3d at 1131.

In ruling that the challenged FOID Card Act requirements are unconstitutional, the circuit court invoked the appropriate two-step framework to assess the Second Amendment claim. See Order at 4-5. However, its application of that framework contained multiple,

² The circuit court showed substantial hostility to the limitations Heller articulated. First, the court was willing only to “presume, for argument’s sake, that the government has the ability to strip someone of their Second Amendment rights based upon ... a felony conviction or mental health disability,” Order at 8, even though Heller expressly deemed prohibitions on people in precisely those two categories to be presumptively lawful and later referred to those prohibitions as “exceptions” to the Second Amendment right, see 554 U.S. at 626, 635. Second, the court announced that there should be “no burden on the citizenry to enjoy” the right to bear arms, Order at 9 (emphasis added), even though the exceptions Heller announced for “laws imposing conditions and qualifications on the commercial sale of arms” and laws forbidding guns in “sensitive places,” 554 U.S. at 626-27, are manifestly some burden on the right.

reversible errors, as the State’s brief explains. This brief will focus on the first step, where the circuit court’s approach to the historical inquiry rested on several faulty grounds. First, the circuit court framed the issue incorrectly from the outset: rather than asking whether historical licensing requirements show that such requirements fall outside the scope of the Second Amendment as historically understood—as indeed they do—the court deemed individuals who have failed to obtain a license to be a cognizable “group,” and asked only whether “the government sought to disarm” that group “at the time of” the Fourteenth Amendment’s ratification. See Order at 12. Second, the court took the view that only historical laws identical to the FOID Card Act, as applied to the circumstances of this case, could establish an applicable limitation on the Second Amendment’s scope. See Order at 7-8. Second Amendment methodology, however, does not require such a precise match; analogous historical laws, such as more than a century of laws requiring permits to purchase firearms, are sufficient to establish that reasonable permitting requirements are regulations falling outside the Second Amendment’s scope. Moreover, the circuit court ignored several laws that are nearly identical to the FOID Card Act, requiring a license to possess a firearm in the home. Finally, the circuit court failed to recognize the long history of firearm taxes and licensing fees, which date back to at least the mid-nineteenth century.

Due to this longstanding historical tradition of firearm licensing—and related licensing fees—the FOID Card Act’s licensing and fee requirements regulate conduct outside the scope of the Second Amendment right.⁴ For this reason, and the additional reasons the State sets out, the Court should reject Defendant’s constitutional challenge and reverse the circuit court’s decision.

⁴ The Appendix accompanying this brief contains many of the older statutory provisions.

ARGUMENT

I. LAWS BASED ON A LONGSTANDING REGULATORY TRADITION ARE CONSTITUTIONAL

As explained in the previous section, the first step of the two-step framework for analyzing Second Amendment cases requires a court to determine whether the challenged law burdens conduct that falls outside the Amendment’s scope, as historically understood. In conducting that historical inquiry, the Seventh Circuit has confirmed that “exclusions” from the scope of the right “need not mirror limits that were on the books in 1791.” United States v. Skoien, 614 F.3d 638, 641 (7th Cir. 2010) (en banc) (noting that prohibitions on possession of firearms by felons and the mentally ill have been found to be sufficiently longstanding, despite the fact that these prohibitions originated in 1938 and 1969, respectively); see also People v. Aguilar, 2013 IL 112116, ¶ 27 (observing that 150 years of regulations prohibiting possession of firearms by juveniles reflect a longstanding practice); Friedman v. City of Highland Park, 784 F.3d 406, 408 (7th Cir. 2015) (noting that “Heller deemed a ban on private possession of machine guns to be obviously valid” despite the fact that “states didn’t begin to regulate private use of machine guns until 1927,” and that “regulating machine guns at the federal level” did not begin until 1934). Other federal circuit courts have likewise considered twentieth-century laws when conducting the historical inquiry. See, e.g., Fyock v. City of Sunnyvale, 779 F.3d 991, 997 (9th Cir. 2015) (noting that even “early twentieth century regulations might . . . demonstrate a history of longstanding regulation”); Heller v. District of Columbia, 670 F.3d 1244, 1253-54 (D.C. Cir. 2011) (“Heller II”) (relying on early twentieth century statutes to show that the D.C. handgun registration requirement was “longstanding”).

Furthermore, a regulatory tradition need not precisely match the modern, challenged law to fall outside the Second Amendment’s protection. Instead, “[t]he relevant inquiry is whether a particular type of regulation has been a ‘longstanding’ exception to the right to bear arms.” United States v. Class, 930 F.3d 460, 465 (D.C. Cir. 2019) (emphasis in original) (rejecting the defendant’s argument that the precise prohibition challenged, which was enacted in the 1980s, lacked a historical basis); cf. Kachalsky v. Cnty. of Westchester, 701 F.3d 81, 91 (2d Cir. 2012) (upholding law regulating public carry of firearms, which has “a number of close and longstanding cousins”); J. Blocher & D.A.H. Miller, The Positive Second Amendment 136 (2018) (“[L]ower courts have used analogy to extend Heller’s exclusions beyond those specifically identified in the case.”). The U.S. Solicitor General recently echoed this view, stating “[i]t is enough if the modern law is ‘fairly supported’ by tradition.” Br. in Opp. to Pet. for a Writ of Cert. 9-10, McGinnis v. United States, No. 20-6046 (Jan. 15, 2021) (citations omitted), cert. denied (Feb. 22, 2021).⁵

II. FIREARMS LICENSING AND FEE REQUIREMENTS ARE LAWFUL, LONGSTANDING REGULATIONS OUTSIDE THE SCOPE OF THE SECOND AMENDMENT

The FOID Card Act’s licensing and fee requirements are constitutional at the first step of the two-step framework. Licensing laws and analogous laws on permitting and registration have been widespread for over a century, forming a longstanding regulatory ⁵ Even the small number of dissenting jurists who would prefer to interpret the Second Amendment to bar any firearm regulation not grounded in “text, history, and tradition”—a view contrary to the two-part framework that is the law of this Court and every federal circuit that has weighed in—acknowledge that “the proper interpretive approach” to the historical inquiry involves “reason[ing] by analogy from history and tradition.” Heller II, 670 F.3d at 1275 (Kavanaugh, J., dissenting) (emphasis added).

tradition. Similarly, taxation and fees on firearm possession and licenses date back to the mid-nineteenth century. Accordingly, the licensing and fee requirements of the FOID Card Act fall outside the scope of the Second Amendment and do not conflict with any Second Amendment-protected rights.⁶

A. Firearms Licenses are Consistent with More Than a Century of Legal Tradition

Firearm licensing laws have a lengthy historical pedigree, tracing back more than a century. The circuit court failed to consider this lengthy history due to improper framing of the historical question as well as methodological and substantive errors in its approach to the historical step-one analysis.

First, the circuit court erroneously framed the historical inquiry as whether persons such as Defendant who are “unlicensed, law-abiding citizens within the privacy of their home” were historically “excluded from exercising their Second Amendment right.” Order at 6-7. Under this framing, the circuit court approached the licensing requirement as creating a prohibited class of persons, akin to prohibitions on the possession of firearms by felons and the mentally ill. See id. However, unlike felons and the mentally ill, those who are “unlicensed, law-abiding citizens” can readily exercise their Second Amendment rights by taking the simple step of obtaining a license. For this reason, a licensing requirement is distinct from a categorical ban. Therefore, the circuit court should not have focused its historical inquiry on whether Defendant fits within “any of the historically proscribed groups,” Order at 7, and instead should have assessed whether there is a historical tradition of imposing firearm licensing requirements on law-abiding citizens.

⁶ Even if the challenged licensing and fee requirements fell within the scope of the Second Amendment, social science research and empirical evidence demonstrate that these requirements readily satisfy the applicable (intermediate) standard of scrutiny. The State set out that evidence in its motion papers in the circuit court. See Att’y Gen. Resp. to Def’s Mot. 12-23 (July 6, 2020). Furthermore, as the State noted, the constitutionality of the permitting requirement establishes the constitutionality of its reasonable and related fee provisions. See id. at 12, 15; Heller v. District of Columbia (“Heller III”), 801 F.3d 264, 278 (D.C. Cir. 2015) (“[R]easonable fees associated with the constitutional requirements of registration and fingerprinting are also constitutional[.]”).

Second, the circuit court’s assertion that citizens are born with Second Amendment rights, and that any licensing system creates an unconstitutional “privileges” framework, see Order at 9, stands in direct contrast to centuries of firearms regulations that have required individuals to take reasonable steps before exercising their Second Amendment rights.⁷ For example, numerous states and localities—including Chicago—enacted laws requiring a permit to purchase or acquire a firearm beginning in the early twentieth century. These laws required a prospective firearms purchaser to obtain a permit from a municipal judge or sheriff, who had to determine that the prospective purchaser was not prohibited by law from possessing a firearm and was of good moral character. See, e.g., 1913 Or. Laws at 497 § 2; Samuel A. Ettelson, Opinions of the Corporation Counsel and Assistants from May 1, 1915, to June 30, 1916, Page 458-459 (Vol. 7, 1916) (Chicago); 1918 Mont. Laws 2, at 6 § 3; 1919 Haw. Sess. Laws 166; 1919 N.C. Sess. Laws 397; 1921 Mo. Laws at 691 § 2; 1927 N.J. Laws at 742, 746 § 9; 1927 Mass. Acts 413; 1927 Mich. Pub. Acts 372, at 887-88 § 6.⁸ These requirements are analogous to those under the FOID Card Act,

⁷ It is also directly contrary to the Seventh Circuit’s opinion in Berron v. Illinois Concealed Carry Licensing Review Board, 825 F.3d 843 (7th Cir. 2016), which stressed that “[i]f a state may set substantive requirements for ownership, which Heller says it may, then it may use a licensing system to enforce them.” Id. at 847; see also Mallard v. Potenza, 376 F. App’x 132, 134 (2d Cir. 2010) (Heller “did not hold reasonable licensing requirements unconstitutional.”).

⁸ These types of laws did not exclusively apply to pistols and revolvers. See, e.g., 1919 Haw. Sess. Laws 166 (permit-to-purchase applied to all firearms); 1919 N.C. Sess. Laws 397 (permit to purchase applied to any pistol or “pump-gun”).

and only differ in that they occur at the point of purchase or acquisition. States have also historically imposed inspection or registration requirements on firearm owners. See, e.g., 1918 Mont. Laws 2, at 6 § 1 (requiring firearm owners to report their weapons to the state); 1927 Mich. Pub. Acts 891 (requiring firearm owners to bring weapon to police for inspection and receive a certificate of inspection). These types of laws, which placed minimal requirements on law-abiding citizens in order for them to lawfully possess weapons—including in the home—continue to be common today.⁹

The circuit court failed to consider these numerous regulations in its historical analysis, instead focusing only on whether there was an exact historical analogue for the FOID Card Act's licensing scheme. However, as explained in Section I, courts can reason by analogy, and a historical regulation need not precisely match the law at issue. Therefore, while a license to purchase or acquire a firearm may not exactly match a license to possess, the requirements are analogous in that they both impose a prerequisite to owning or possessing a weapon, and thus place similar burdens on the right to “keep and bear arms.”¹⁰ Inspection and registration requirements similarly impose conditions on firearms owners, regardless of whether the weapons are kept within or outside the home. All of these regulations served the same ultimate functions as a license to possess: ensuring that prohibited persons cannot possess firearms and maintaining records of firearm owners. Accordingly, the long history of permit-to-purchase and registration laws demonstrates that licensing schemes are longstanding and outside the scope of the Second Amendment.

⁹ At least ten states currently have permit-to-purchase licensing schemes (some applicable to all firearms and some only to handguns). Conn. Gen. Stat. §§ 29-33, 29-36f, 29-37a; Haw. Rev. Stat. Ann. § 134-2; Iowa Code § 724.15; Md. Code Ann. Pub. Safety § 5-117.1; Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 140, § 131A; Mich. Comp. Laws § 28.422; Neb. Rev. Stat. Ann. § 69-2404; N.J. Stat. Ann. § 2C:58-3; N.C. Gen. Stat. § 14-402; R.I. Gen. Laws § 11-47-35. Additionally, two states besides Illinois require licenses to own, Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 140, § 129B; N.Y. Penal Law § 400.00 (handguns), two states require firearm safety certificates to purchase, Cal. Penal Code §§ 16370, 16670, 26840, 31610; Rev. Code Wash. § 9.41.090 (semiautomatic rifles), and the District of Columbia has a registration law that functions as a licensing requirement, D.C. Code Ann. § 7-2502.01. Five states and the District of Columbia also require safety trainings or exams to obtain a license (again, some applicable to all firearms and some only to handguns). D.C. Code Ann. § 7-2502.01(a)(13); D.C. Mun. Regs. tit. 24, § 2311; Conn. Gen. Stat. § 29-36f; Haw. Rev. Stat. Ann. § 134-2(g), Md. Code Ann. Pub. Safety § 5-117.1(d)(3), Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 140, § 131P; R.I. Gen. Laws § 11-47-35.

Finally, the circuit court’s conclusion that there was not “a single instance where unlicensed, law-abiding citizens within the privacy of their home were excluded from exercising their Second Amendment rights” ignores a number of historical laws that are directly on point. Most notably, New York’s Sullivan Act, as amended in 1913, required individuals to obtain a license to possess a pistol or revolver—what the U.S. Supreme Court recognized as the “quintessential self-defense weapon,” Heller, 554 U.S. at 629—within the home. See 1913 N.Y. Laws 1627, § 1897.¹¹ Specifically, a magistrate could grant “any householder” a license to “have such weapon in his dwelling” upon a finding of “good moral character of the applicant, and provided that no other good cause exist[ed] for the denial of such application.” Id. A revised version of the New York statute clarified that every person “while ... in possession of a weapon for which a license has been issued, shall have on his person the license issued to him under this section, and shall exhibit the same for inspection upon demand, to any policeman, state trooper or other peace officer.” 1931 N.Y. Laws 792, at 2391 § 6. Similarly, a 1926 Virginia law required a license to own a pistol or revolver, which was contingent upon an annual $1 tax per weapon. 1926 Va. Acts 285-87, § 1.

Based on these nearly identical laws, as well as the analogous permit-to-purchase and registration laws, the FOID Card Act’s licensing requirement is consistent with over a century of firearms regulations, and thus is a longstanding regulation outside the scope of the Second Amendment.

B. Firearm License Fees are Longstanding Regulations Outside the Scope of the Second Amendment

Laws imposing fees or taxes on firearm possession and licensing are similarly longstanding and outside the scope of the Second Amendment. Therefore, the circuit court’s conclusion that “any fee” associated with the Second Amendment right in the home is unconstitutional, Order at 16-17 (emphasis in original), is in error.

Levying fees or taxes on the possession of firearms dates back to at least the mid-nineteenth century. See A. Hutchinson, Code of Mississippi 182 (1798-1848) (1844 tax rate of $2 “on each duelling or pocket pistol”); 1851 Ala. Sess. Laws 3 ($2 tax on “revolving pistol[s]”); 1866 Ga. Laws 27-28, § 3 ($1 county tax on “every gun or pistol, musket or rifle over the number of three kept or owned on any plantation”); 1902-1904 Va. Acts 155-157, sch. B, § 6 (taxing the “aggregate value of all shot-guns, rifles, muskets, and other fire-arms”); 1919 N.C. Sess. Laws 397, § 6 (taxing firearms as personal property); 1926 Va. Acts 285-87, ch. 158, §§ 1-9 ($1 “license tax ... on each pistol or revolver so owned”). These taxes applied regardless of whether the weapons were kept within or outside of the home. Additionally, beginning in the early twentieth century, several states and localities imposed fees for obtaining a license to purchase or possess a firearm. See, e.g., 1919 N.C. Sess. Law 397, § 3 (50¢ fee to obtain permit to purchase); 1921 Mo. Laws 691, § 2 (50¢ fee for permit to purchase); 1927 N.J. Law. 742, 746 § 9 (50¢ fee for a “permit to purchase or carry a pistol or revolver”); 1931 N.Y. Law 2390, § 5.10 (50¢ fee for “license ... to possess a weapon not to be carried on the person”); Samuel A. Ettelson, Opinions of the Corporation Counsel and Assistants from May 1, 1915, to June 30, 1916, 458-459 (Vol. 9, 1916) ($1 fee for permit to purchase in Chicago). In today’s dollars, these taxes and fees ranged from $7 to $70,¹² and many of these charges occurred annually or separately for each gun purchased.¹³

Fees and taxes on the purchase or possession of firearms have continued through modern day. At least 10 states, the District of Columbia, and local governments have firearm licensing or registration laws requiring payment of an administrative fee,¹⁴ and at ¹² Inflation Calculator, Official Data Foundation, officialdata.org (calculating the current dollar value of 50¢ in 1921 and $2 in 1844).

¹⁴ See, e.g., Cal. Penal Code § 31650; Conn. Gen. Stat. § 29-36h; D.C. Mun. Regs. tit. 24, § 2320.3; Haw. Rev. Stat. § 134-3(b); 430 ILCS 65/5(a); Md. Code Ann., Pub. Safety § 5-117.1(g); Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 140, § 129B(9A); Neb. Rev. Stat. § 69-2404; N.J. Stat. Ann. § 2C:58-3(f); N.Y. Penal Law § 400.00(14); N.C. Gen. Stat. § 14-404(e).

least 13 states charge an additional administrative fee for a mandatory background check.¹⁵ These administrative fees range from $5 in Nebraska and North Carolina to $340 in New York City.¹⁶

Taken together, these laws demonstrate that taxes and fees on access to firearms are longstanding regulations. Accordingly, the FOID Card Act's modest $10 fee, like the licensing scheme itself, does not regulate conduct within the scope of the Second Amendment.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons and those set out in the State's brief, the circuit court's April 26, 2021, Order should be reversed.

And it is hereby expressly made the duty of the judge of probate of each county by himself or agent to enquire of every person doing or offering to do any business for which a license is required under this or any other act, and ascertain whether the law has been complied with, and if not to cause the person to be bound over to court. When any citizen, assessor or other public officer may have information and believe that money due for the tax will be lost to the treasury by removals or otherwise, unless received immediately, the same may be paid to the county treasurer, who is required to give duplicate receipts therefor, one to the person paying, the other to the judge of probate, who shall endorse it to the collector. The treasurer shall pay the same over to the collector so soon as collections commence to be paid over by him as other money, and the treasurer charging himself with any portion thereof which belongs to the county treasury. SEC. 7. Be it further enacted, That after either the assessor or collector shall have faithfully given the notices required by law to give in or pay taxes, if any person, without sufficient cause, fail or refuse to appear and give in or pay tax, and it thereby becomes necessary for such officer to visit the residence of such person, said officer is authorised to charge therefor (if in a city or town twenty-five cents, if in the country) fifty cents, to be charged and collected at the same time and in the same manner as taxes. But if either of said officers presume to charge or collect any such sum when the proper notice had not been given in good faith, or when from other cause it was improper, the same may be recovered back with costs before any justice of the county.

If the party forcibly detaining lands and tenements, or those under whom he claims, shall have been in peaceable possession of the same for the space of three years or more, immediately preceding the filing of the complaint, he shall not be subject to the penalties of this section, nor shall the restitution of possession be made. The only questions to be submitted to and determined by the jury in trials for forcible entry, or forcible detainer, shall be the possession and the force, without regard to the merits of the title on either side.

Cobb, 812-813. Acts 1895, p. 63.

§§ 5398-5405, C. C.

Chain-gang sentence for a violation of section 345 is legal since the adoption by the legislature of section 1039 of the Penal Code of 1895 (section 1065 of this Code). 115/567 (2) (41 S. E. 1000).
Indictment may charge both forcible entry and forcible detainer in same count but, if charged, both must be proved. 99/692 (2) (26 S. E. 496); see 74/816; 10 App. 664, 665 (73 S. E. 1079).
Pendency of civil action for forcible detainer, instituted by prosecutor, irrelevant. 105/657 (2) (31 S. E. 576).
Verdict may be for both offenses under indictment charging both, though evidence must warrant such verdict. 74/816.

ARTICLE 3.

Carrying Concealed Weapons; Carrying Weapons to Courts, Election Grounds, etc.; Carrying Pistols without License; Pointing Weapon at Another; and Furnishing Weapons to Minors.

§ 347. (§ 341.) Carrying concealed weapons. Any person having or carrying about his person, unless in an open manner and fully exposed to view, any kind of metal knucks, pistol, dirk, sword in a cane, spear, bowie-knife or any other kind of knives manufactured and sold for the purpose of offense and defense, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Cobb, 848, 849. Acts 1882-3, p. 48. 1898, p. 60.

Basket: See Charge, Concealed.
Charge that "if the pistol was carried so exposed to view that it could readily be seen and recognized as a pistol" intimates that the defendant had a pistol in his possession, and, where this fact is in issue before the jury, such charge requires new trial.

Carrying concealed weapons; carrying weapons to courts, etc.

- 2 App. 626 (1) (58 S. E. 1063). Charge as to carrying pistol in basket omitting to state that pistol must be concealed was error. 6 App. 533 (65 S. E. 354).
- Church, carrying pistol to, different from offense of carrying concealed weapon. 4 App. 845 (62 S. E. 561).
- Concealed, weapon is, if carried in basket or bag and not for purpose of transportation alone. 86/255 (12 S. E. 361). Or in a sack under the arm. 6 App. 18 (1) (64 S. E. 111). Or wrapped in bundle and carried merely for transportation. 126/89 (1-b) (54 S. E. 809). Defendant guilty if he transported pistol from repair shop at request of owner. 99/253 (1) (25 S. E. 624). If weapon is concealed but for a moment, offense complete. 75/882; 46/292. Satchel containing concealed pistol, with a strap resting upon shoulder of accused while a passenger in a railway car, warranted conviction. 105/633 (32 S. E. 155). Pistol was not concealed if sufficiently exposed to enable witness to recognize it as a pistol. 114/539 (3) (40 S. E. 733). Carrying pistol in pocket in such a manner that those standing in full view cannot see it, violates this section. 2 App. 417 (1) (58 S. E. 549). See Charge.
- Evidence presenting conflict between positive and negative testimony, the positive pointing directly to defendant's guilt, conviction upheld. 12/213. Evidence that weapon carried openly at another time, not in conflict with testimony that defendant later carried it concealed. 61/481. Evidence as to general habit of accused to carry weapon openly, not admissible. 36/242; 106/142 (32 S. E. 18). Evidence that accused had a pistol in his pocket, but that witness did not see it, his recognition of it as a pistol being derived from the shape of the object, not authorize conviction. 114/538 (2) (40 S. E. 733). Evidence conflicting as to concealment, refusal of new trial not reversed. 122/143 (50 S. E. 66). Evidence that concealed pistol was exposed to view by reason of the defendant's leaning over so as to disclose it in the bosom of his overalls, supported conviction. 7 App. 33 (65 S. E. 1097). Evidence that defendant approached witnesses with a pistol, that he concealed the pistol in his pocket until he was almost within their presence, when he took it from his pocket, warranted conviction. 8 App. 32, 33 (68 S. E. 457). See Purpose. Evidence secured by search of prisoner: See notes to § 1037 (3), catchword Search.
- Exposed to view, means so exposed as that weapon could readily be seen and recognized. 1/243; 32/225, 292. The expression does not mean necessarily that one meeting accused could see pistol; error so to charge. 114/538 (40 S. E. 733).
- Habit: See Evidence.
- Home, carrying concealed pistol within limits of, is within statute. 114/60 (1) (39 S. E. 873).
- Indictment need not allege that metal knucks were manufactured and sold for "offense and defense." 121/144 (2) (48 S. E. 966). Two indictments charging offenses on different dates in presence of different persons, prima facie charge separate offenses. 119/964 (1) (47 S. E. 567).
- Metal knucks: Amending Act of 1898, p. 60, inserting "kind of metal knucks," constitutional. 128/55 (57 S. E. 90); 1 App. 697, 698 (57 S. E. 90). See Indictment.
- Place to place, carrying from, in presence of different persons constitutes but one offense, but when continuity broken, offense is ended and concealment again is new offense. 119/964 (3) (47 S. E. 567).
- Purpose in carrying weapon concealed, not material. 94/774 (21 S. E. 992); 126/89 (1-a) (54 S. E. 809). Evidence to show purpose, inadmissible. 46/292. Though weapon carried as precaution for self-defense after life was threatened, no excuse. 72/211. See Concealed.
- Search, as to admissibility of evidence disclosed by, see notes to § 1037 (3), catchword Search.
- Self-defense: See Purpose.
- Sentence of $200 fine or twelve months in chain-gang, not excessive. 65/303.
- Threats: See Purpose.
- Transportation: See Charge, Concealed.
- Weapon, though disabled, accused still guilty if he carried it concealed. 61/417; 94/772 (21 S. E. 992).

Permit for Purchase of Revolver by Owner of Shooting Gallery.

November 10, 1915.

MESSRS. VON LENGERKE & ANTOINE, 128-32 South Wabash Avenue.

Gentlemen:

Your communication of the 5th inst. wherein you wish to be advised if it is necessary for a person who keeps, conducts and operates a licensed shooting gallery to secure from the general superintendent of police a permit to purchase revolvers to be used for target practice in licensed shooting gallery, has been referred to me, and in reply I beg to state as follows:

An ordinance passed by the City Council under date of May 25, 1914, and appearing upon pages 418 and 419 of the Council Journal, amending an ordinance passed by the City Council May 11, 1914, and appearing on pages 186 and 187 of the Council Journal, is as follows:

“SECTION 4a. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, barter or give away to any person within the City of Chicago, any pistol, revolver, derringer, bowie knife, dirk or other weapon of like character which can be concealed on the person, except to licensed dealers and to persons who have secured a permit for the purchase of such articles from the general superintendent of police as hereinafter required; provided, this section shall not apply to sales made of such articles which are to be delivered or furnished outside the City of Chicago.

“SECTION 5. It shall be unlawful for any person to purchase any pistol, revolver, derringer, bowie knife, dirk or other weapon of like character, which can be concealed on the person, without first securing from the General Superintendent of Police a permit so to do. Before any such permit is granted, an application in writing shall be made therefor, setting forth in such application the name, address, age, height, weight, complexion, nationality and other elements of identification, of the person desiring such permit, and the applicant shall present such evidence of good character as the General Superintendent of Police in his discretion may require.

“SECTION 6. It shall be the duty of the General Superintendent of Police to refuse such permit to

(a) All persons having been convicted of any crime.

(b) All minors.

“Otherwise, in case he shall be satisfied that the applicant is a person of good moral character, it shall be the duty of the General Superintendent of Police to grant such permit, upon the payment of a fee of one dollar.

“SECTION 8. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall be fined not less than Fifty Dollars ($50.00) nor more than Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) for each offense, and every purchase, sale or gift of any weapon mentioned in this ordinance shall be deemed a separate offense.”

It would seem from the above sections that the intention of the City Council was to exercise the power to determine the manner in which deadly weapons may be sold. The section of the ordinance requiring a permit from the general superintendent of police before a person can lawfully purchase a revolver was for the purpose of keeping a record of all revolvers sold in the City of Chicago.

The ordinance giving the city power to restrict and regulate the sale of firearms is a separate and distinct ordinance from the one giving the city power to grant licenses to persons to keep, conduct and operate a shooting gallery.

I am, therefore, of the opinion that a person must first secure a permit from the general superintendent of police before he can purchase a revolver to be used in a shooting gallery for target practice.

Yours very truly,

CHARLES E. PEACE,
Assistant Corporation Counsel.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Missouri, as follows:

Section 1. Pistol, revolver or firearms to be plainly marked.

No wholesaler or dealer therein shall have in his possession for the purpose of sale, or shall sell, any pistol, revolver, or other firearm of a size which may be concealed upon the person, which does not have plainly and permanently stamped upon the metallic portion thereof, the trademark or name of the maker, the model and the serial factory number thereof, which number shall not be the same as that of any other such weapon of the same model made by the same maker, and the maker, and no wholesale or retail dealer therein shall have in his possession for the purpose of sale, or shall sell, any such weapon unless he keep a full and complete record of such description of such weapon, the name and address of the person from whom purchased and to whom sold, the date of such purchase or sale, and in the case of retailers the date of the permit and the name of the circuit clerk granting the same, which record shall be open to inspection at all times by any police officer or other peace officer of this state.

Sec. 2. Shall secure permit to acquire weapon.—No person, other than a manufacturer or wholesaler thereof to or from a wholesale or retail dealer therein, for the purposes of commerce, shall directly or indirectly buy, sell, borrow, loan, give away, trade, barter, deliver or receive, in this state, any pistol, revolver or other firearm of a size which may be concealed upon the person, unless the buyer, borrower or person receiving such weapon shall first obtain and deliver to, and the same be demanded and received by, the seller, loaner, or person delivering such weapon, within thirty days after the issuance thereof, a permit authorizing such person to acquire such weapon. Such permit shall be issued by the circuit clerk of the county in which the applicant for a permit resides in this state, if the sheriff be satisfied that the person applying for the same is of good moral character and of lawful age, and that the granting of the same will not endanger the public safety. The permit shall recite the date of the issuance thereof and that the same is invalid after thirty days after the said date, the name and address of the person to whom granted and of the person from whom such weapon is to be acquired, the nature of the transaction, and a full description of such weapon, and shall be countersigned by the person to whom granted in the presence of the circuit clerk. The circuit clerk shall receive therefor a fee of $0.50. If the permit be used, the person receiving the same shall return it to the circuit clerk within thirty days after its expiration, with a notation thereon showing the date and manner of the disposition of such weapon. The circuit clerk shall keep a record of all applications for such permits and his action thereon, and shall preserve all returned permits. No person shall in any manner transfer, alter or change any such permit or make a false notation thereon or obtain the same upon any false representation to the circuit clerk granting the same, or use or attempt to use a permit granted to another.

Sec. 3. Weapons must be stamped.—No person within this state shall lease, buy or in anywise procure the possession from any person, firm or corporation within or without the state, of any pistol, revolver or other firearm of a size which may be concealed upon the person, that is not stamped as required by section 1 of this act; and no person shall buy or otherwise acquire the possession of any such article unless he shall have first procured a written permit so to do from the circuit clerk of the county in which such person resides, in the manner as provided in section 2 of this act.

Sec. 4. Manufacture not prohibited.—Nothing herein contained shall be considered or construed as forbidding or making it unlawful for a dealer in or manufacturer of pistols, revolvers or other firearms of a size which may be concealed upon the person, located in this state, to ship into other states or foreign countries, any such articles whether stamped as required by this act or not so stamped.

Sec. 5. Punishment for violation.—Any person, its or his directors, officers, agents or servants, convicted of violating any of the provisions of this act, shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not more than five years, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than six months, or by a fine not less than fifty dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, or by both fine and imprisonment in the county jail.

Sec. 6. Validity of remaining sections not affected.—If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The general assembly hereby declared that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more of the same shall be declared unconstitutional.

Sec. 7. Emergency clause.—There being no adequate law governing the stamping, recording, sale and other disposition of weapons as described herein, creates an emergency within the meaning of the Constitution; therefore this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its approval.

Approved April 7, 1921.

58 other conditions of this act be complied with, said circuit
59 court or the judge thereof in vacation, may grant
60 said license for such purposes, and no other, as said
60-a circuit court may set out in the said license (and the word

69 said application and as authorized by the court, and that he 70 will pay all costs and damages accruing to any person by the 72 said weapon or weapons. Any such license granted after this 73 act becomes effective shall be good for one year, unless sooner 74 revoked, as hereinafter provided, and be co-extensive with the 75 county in which granted, and such other county or coun-

77 license; except that regularly appointed deputy sheriffs having 78 license shall be permitted to carry such revolver or other
79 weapons at any place, within the state, while in the perfor-
80 mance of their duties as such deputy sheriffs and except that 81 any such license granted to regularly appointed railway police

82 shall be co-extensive with the state, and all license fees col-
83 lected hereunder shall be paid by the sheriff and accounted for 84 to the auditor as other license taxes are collected and paid, and 85 the state tax commissioner shall prepare all suitable forms for 86 licenses and bonds and certificates showing that such license 87 has been granted and to do anything else in the premises to 88 protect the state and see to the enforcement of this act.

89 The clerk of the court shall immediately after license is 90 granted as aforesaid, furnish the superintendent of the de-91 partment of public safety a certified copy of the order of the 92 court granting such license, for which service the clerk shall 93 be paid a fee of two dollars which shall be taxed as cost in 94 the proceeding; within thirty days after this act becomes 95 effective it shall be the duty of the clerks of each court in this 96 state having jurisdiction to issue pistol licenses to certify
97 to the superintendent of the department of public safety a
98 list of all such licenses issued in his county.

99 Provided, that nothing herein shall prevent any person
100 from carrying any such weapon, in good faith and not for a
101 felonious purpose, upon his own premises, nor shall anything
102 herein prevent a person from carrying any such weapon
103 (unloaded) from the place of purchase to his home
104 or place of residence, or to a place of repair and 105 back to his home or residence; but nothing herein
106 shall be construed to authorize any employee of any person, 107 firm or corporation doing business in this state to carry on

113 other employees of express companies doing business as com-
114 mon carriers, whose duties require such agents, messengers
115 and other employees to have the care, custody or protection
116 of money, valuables and other property for such express com-
117 panies, from carrying any such weapon while actually en-
118 gaged in such duties, or in doing anything reasonably inci-119 dent to such duties; provided, such express company shall 120 execute a continuing bond in the penalty of thirty thousand 121 dollars, payable unto the state of West Virginia, and with 122 security to be approved by the secretary of state of the state

123 of West Virginia, conditioned that said express company will 124 pay all damages, accruing to anyone by the accidental dis-125 charge or improper, negligent or illegal discharge or use of such 126 weapon or weapons by such agent, messenger or other employee
127 while actually engaged in such duties for such express com-
128 pany, in doing anything that is reasonably incident to such du-129 ties; but the amount which may be recovered for breach of 130 such condition shall not exceed the sum of three thousand five 131 hundred dollars in any one case, and such bond shall be filed
132 with and held by the said secretary of state, for the purpose
133 aforesaid, but upon the trial of any cause for the recovery of 134 damages upon said bond, the burden of proof shall be upon
135 such express company to establish that such agent, messenger 136 or other employee was not actually employed in such duties for 137 such express company nor in doing anything that was rea-138 sonably incident to such duties at the time such damages were 139 sustained; and, provided further, that nothing herein shall 139-a prevent railroad police officers duly appointed and qualified 139-b under authority of section thirty-one of chapter one hun-139-c dred forty-five of Barnes' code or duly qualified under the 139-d laws of any other state, from carrying any such weapon

139-n-1 other state while actually engaged in such duties for such 139-o railroad company, in doing anything that is reasonably inci-
139-p dent to such duties, but the amount which may be recovered
139-q for breach of such condition shall not exceed the sum of 139-r three thousand five hundred dollars in any one case, and 139-s such bond shall be filed with and held by the said secretary
139-t of state for the purpose aforesaid but upon the trial of any 139-u cause for the recovery of damages upon said bond, the bur-
139-v den of proof shall be upon such railroad company to estab-
139-w lish that such railroad police officer was not actually em-

139-x ployed in such duties for such railroad company nor in 139-y doing anything that was reasonably incident to such duties
139-z at the time such damages were sustained; and provided, fur-
140 ther, that in case of riot, public danger and emer-
140-a gency, a justice of the peace, or other person
141 issuing a warrant, may authorize a special constable and his

144 posse to carry weapons, but the justice shall write in his 145 docket the cause and reasons for such authority and the name
146 of the person, or persons, so authorized, and index the same,
147 and the sheriff or other officer shall write out and file with 148 the clerk of the county court the reasons and causes for such 149 authority and the name, or names of the persons so author-
150 ized, and the same shall always be open to public inspection,
151 and such authority shall authorize such special constable, 152 deputies and posses to carry weapons in good faith only for 153 the specific purposes and times named in such authority, and 154 upon the trial of every indictment the jury shall inquire into 155 the good faith of the person attempting to defend such in-156 dictment under the authority granted by any such justice,
157 sheriff or other officer, and any such person or persons so 158 authorized shall be personally liable for the injury caused to 159 any person by the negligent or unlawful use of any such 160 weapon or weapons. It shall be the duty of all ministerial of-

Approved March 17, 1926.

1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of Virginia, That it shall be the duty of every person residing in this State and owning a pistol or revolver therein, to pay on or before the first day of January of each year a license tax of one dollar on each pistol or revolver so owned, or in the event that such pistol or revolver shall be acquired by any such person on or after the first day of February, such license tax shall be forthwith paid thereon. The application for the license shall give the name of the owner, and the number, make and calibre of such pistol or revolver, which shall be set forth in the license. Such license taxes shall be paid to the treasurer of the city or county wherein the said owner resides, and the said treasurer shall not receive more for handling the funds arising from the tax imposed by this act than he receives for handling other State funds. The treasurers shall not receive compensation for their services in issuing the license cards herein provided for. Upon payment of the tax provided for in this section the person paying the same shall be entitled to a license card therefor, showing the year for which the license is paid, the county or city issuing the card, the serial number of the license, and the number, calibre, make and owner of the pistol or revolver. The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section eighteen hundred and ninety-six of the penal law is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 1896. Making and disposing of dangerous weapons. A person who manufactures, or causes to be manufactured, or sells or keeps for sale, or offers, or gives, or disposes of any instrument or weapon of the kind usually known as a blackjack, a slungshot, billy, sandclub, sandbag, bludgeon, or metal knuckles, to any person; or a person who offers, sells, loans, leases, or gives any gun, revolver, pistol or other firearm or any airgun, springgun or other instrument or weapon in which the propelling force is a spring or air or any instrument or weapon commonly known as a toy pistol or in or upon which any loaded or blank cartridges are used, or may be used, or any loaded or blank cartridges or ammunition therefor, to any person under the age of sixteen years, is guilty of a misdemeanor. A person who sells or keeps for sale, or offers, or gives, or disposes of any instrument or weapon of the kind usually known as a machine-gun to any person is guilty of a felony, except that the manufacture of machine-guns as merchandise and the sale and shipment thereof direct to regularly constituted or appointed state or municipal police departments, sheriffs, policemen, and other peace officers, and to state prisons, penitentiaries and county jails, and to military and naval organizations shall be lawful.

§ 2. Subdivision one of section eighteen hundred and ninety-seven of the penal law is hereby amended to read as follows:

1. A person who attempts to use against another an imitation pistol, or who carries, or possesses any instrument or weapon of the kind commonly known as a black-jack, slungshot, billy, sandclub, sandbag, metal knuckles, bludgeon, or who, with intent to use the same unlawfully against another, carries or possesses a dagger, dirk, dangerous knife, razor, stiletto, imitation pistol, sawed off shot-gun, or any other dangerous or deadly instrument, or weapon, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and if he has been previously convicted of any crime he is guilty of a felony. This subdivision shall not apply to the use or possession of an instrument or weapon commonly known as a machine-gun.

§ 3. Section eighteen hundred and ninety-seven of the penal law is hereby amended by adding a new subdivision, to be subdivision one-a, to read as follows:

1 a. A machine-gun is a weapon of any description, irrespective of size, by whatever name known, loaded or unloaded, from which a number of shots or bullets may be rapidly or automatically discharged from a magazine with one continuous pull of the trigger. A person who possesses or uses such machine-gun is guilty of a felony. The presence of such machine-gun in any room, dwelling, structure or vehicle shall be presumptive evidence of its illegal possession by all the persons occupying the place where such machine-gun is found. This subdivision shall not apply to possession of a machine-gun as authorized by the preceding section. Nor shall it apply to the possession or use of machine-guns in the discharge of their official duties by the state police, the warden, superintendent, headkeeper or deputy of any state prison, penitentiary, workhouse, county jail or other institution for the detention of persons convicted or accused of crime or held as witnesses in criminal cases, sheriffs, policemen, or other peace officers, nor to the possession or use of machine-guns by a person when on duty in the military or naval service of the United States or of this state, or in the postal service of the United States, nor to the possession by common carriers while being transported direct to any police department, military or naval organization, or person authorized by this section to possess and use the same.

§ 4. Section eighteen hundred and ninety-seven of the penal law is hereby amended by adding a new subdivision, to be subdivision nine-a, to read as follows:

9-a. No license shall be issued by the police commissioner of the city of New York except to a resident of that city. Outside of the city of New York, no license shall be issued by a judge or justice of a court of record except to a resident of the county in which the office of such judge or justice is located. A license may be issued, however, to a qualified person principally employed in such city or county and to a merchant or storekeeper having his principal place of business in such city or county.

§ 5. Subdivision ten of section eighteen hundred and ninety-seven of the penal law is hereby amended to read as follows:

10. The expense of providing a judge, justice or officer with blank applications, licenses and record books for carrying out the provisions of this section shall be a charge against the county, or the city of New York in the case of the police commissioner of such city which blank applications, licenses and record books shall, except in the city of New York, be approved as to form by the superintendent of state police. Such judge, justice or officer shall collect a fee of fifty cents for each license issued and shall pay the same into the treasury of the county or of such city, as the case may be. The application for any such license, if the license be granted, shall be filed by such judge, justice or officer in the office of the city or county clerk of the city or county, as the case may be, where the applicant resides, and in addition, a duplicate copy of the application shall be filed in the office of the executive department, division of state police, within ten days after the issuance of the license. Every such license shall specify the weapon or weapons for which the license is issued and whether to be carried on the person or possessed on the premises and shall expire on the ensuing first day of January, provided, however, that any such license may be limited as to time to expire on a date fixed in the license prior to such date and provided, however, that, except in the city of New York, a license to a householder to possess a weapon upon certain premises shall not be limited in time but shall be revocable as herein provided. Each license issued to possess a weapon not to be carried on the person shall specify the place where the licensee shall possess the same. Each application for a license to carry a weapon on the person shall be accompanied by a photograph of the applicant in duplicate which photograph shall have been taken within thirty days prior to the filing of such application and one copy of which shall be attached to the license and the other remain with the application. Before a license is issued as provided in this section the officer to whom the application is made shall ascertain if the applicant has been convicted of crime and shall cause the finger prints of such applicant, except he be a householder, to be taken in duplicate. One original of such finger prints shall be filed in the office of the executive department, division of state police, within ten days after the license is issued and one shall remain on file in the office of the officer taking the same. No such finger print may be inspected by any person, other than a peace officer, except on order of a judge or justice of a court of record on such notice, if any, to the person to whom the license was issued as the judge or justice may determine. A person who has been convicted in this state or elsewhere of a felony or any one of the seven misdemeanors mentioned in section five hundred and fifty-two of the code of criminal procedure shall not be entitled to a license under this section. A license may be revoked and cancelled at any time by the police commissioner or elsewhere than in the city of New York, by any judge, or justice of a court of record. But if before the date of the expiration thereof, providing the license shall not have been cancelled or revoked, the licensee apply for a renewal, the term of such license shall thereby be extended until the application for renewal shall have been disposed of by such commissioner, judge or justice.

§ 6. Section eighteen hundred and ninety-seven of the penal law is hereby amended by adding a new subdivision, to be subdivision ten-a, to read as follows:

10-a. Every person while carrying or in possession of a weapon for which a license shall have been issued, shall have on his person the license issued to him under this section, and shall exhibit the same for inspection upon demand, to any policeman, state trooper or other peace officer. The failure of any person to exhibit his license as provided in this subdivision shall be presumptive evidence that such person is not duly licensed and shall cause a forfeiture of his license.

§ 7. Every license heretofore issued pursuant to section eighteen hundred and ninety-seven of the penal law, except to a householder under subdivision eight thereof, and then in force, shall expire on the first day of October, nineteen hundred thirty-one.

§ 8. This act shall take effect October first, nineteen hundred thirty-one.
